

A novel architecture for modelling, virtualising and managing energy consumption of household appliances

Energy Consumption Management for:

- Residential users
- Network operators
- Energy generation utilities

AIM Use Cases:

- Intelligent power management service for autonomous energy preservation
- Metering service for energy planning
- Remote monitoring and management

AIM is a STREP Project of the ICT work Programme under the European Community's 7th Framework Programme (FP7)

For further information visit: <http://www.ict-aim.eu/>

